

Bill Maher gets owned by Glenn Greenwald over religion and US intervention plus Greenwald on the “ideological Bubbles” separating Americans

For once Maher's cleverness can't save him from an avalanche of irrefutable facts.

Dec 19, 2013

There are occasions when Bill Maher imprudently chews more than he can swallow. This is an occasion when Maher, an unabashed apologist for Israel and Democrat party corruption, meets his match in Glenn Greenwald. Too bad Glenn's machine-gun delivery is a bit overwhelming and probably not attractive to general brainwashed audiences—who will be left in the propaganda dust—when listening to his exposés.

Note that Maher's panel also has on board the notorious Joy Reid, later to become a major tool for the distribution of the Russiagate hoax, and good exponent of the Trump Derangement Syndrome.

Greenwald & Dore on state of the media and the artificial ideological divide in America

Glenn Greenwald's three interviews on the Jimmy Dore show are a good introduction to the catastrophic state of US media (and much of Western press, too), as the nation and much of the world have become divided into two mutually exclusive spheres of "truth" about current events, both issuing from a supra narrative controlled by the plutocratic elites.

Up to You.

^3000US citizens have no real political representation.

We don't live in a democracy. And our freedom is disappearing fast.

I don't want to be ruled by hypocrites, whores, and war criminals.

What about you? Time to push back against the corporate oligarchy.

And its multitude of minions and lackeys.
