

Combating Big Pharma/ Big Media lies about Ivermectin: all you need to know to stop being a chump

The mainstream media's full court press to demonize the Nobel Prize-winning drug Ivermectin as "horse de-wormer" and marginalize advocates of the medication as a COVID treatment has become genuinely pathological. Despite CNN's in-house physician Sanjay Gupta admitting to Joe Rogan that the network shouldn't have described Ivermectin this way, the torrent of corporate media misinformation continues apace.
